Populace

With a populace grown mad by the swindles perpetrated by government agents in the Bayonne pawnshop scandal, still now he sits the tenure of Premier Chautemps of France and his rule today is threatened. Below him is shown Mrs. Slavsky, widow of the man responsible for the great debacle in the failure of the institution—a $400,000 loss—and below her is shown Serge Slavsky, the promoter who headed the Bayonne pawnshop whose fraudulent collapse precipitated a political crisis in France. Slavsky, who later committed suicide, was suspected of having lured the newspaper La Volonte of which Mr. Dillbury (lower left) is director. Magistrate M. Ordonneau (lower right) conducted the official investigation of the case.

JAPAN EXPRESSES EFFICIENT DESIRE FOR FRIENDSHIP

Foreign Minister, Before Diet, Reviews Nippon's Problems in Efforts to Stabilize Peace of Asia

TOKYO, Jan. 23.—Foreign minister Koki Hirota told the Japanese Diet today that "between Japan and the United States of America there exists no question that is intrinsically difficult of solution." He asserted that Japan "earnestly desires American friendship."

At the same time he said "it is most surprising and regrettable" that Soviet Russia should direct "unwarranted criticisms against Japan."

He told the legislators that the Japanese government has "lived" "proper adjustment of the tripartite relationship between Japan, Manchuria and the Soviet Union" of paramount importance for the "peace of East Asia."

bloody monkeys that roar like lions.

The whole country is studied with sink holes of quicksand and patrolled by bush Indians known as human blood hounds. Their job is tracking down escaped convicts and their money about equal to that of a king cobra.

Yet more convicts escape from Devil's Island than from any other penitentiary in the world.

More than 200 have got away this year, of whom only 27 have been recaptured and thrown into the blackhouse where they now await banishment to the dungeons of death.

ROBBING A JAIL

A killer named Roux not only made a clean break, but on the theory that he had all to win and nothing to lose he robbed the penitentiary office of every franc it had left in its vaults.

Dozens are gone weeks, or even months, before they are traced.

No stream robs, no group hounds or telegraph instruments.

When a man makes a break, no penitentiary search party ever set out with dogs and night angle beaters to round up deserters.

The routine rewards running from 20 francs to 50 francs are posted, the human blood hounds are given names and numbers and the search goes quietly and cruelly on.

So many escapees are made as to be at large in the fevered interior of French Guiana that it has recently been put under military law.

Just this week a group of prospectors planning for gold in an island near the coast and inland stream found a group of escaped prisoners.

One of these desperadoes was guillotined.

Her honeymoon interrupted, with her husband sailing from another port for the same destination, Princess Alexis Matveev, the former Barbara Hutton, was indeed a poor little rich girl when, as shown here, she sailed from San Francisco for Yokohama—alone. of the doomed. I can't give you a French for it but it goes something like this: "We are the doomed of France. Tonight we live. Tomorrow one of us will die. Tonight then, is ours. Let us do something to something, to something."

On next day drum calls echoed across the squares. Soldiers lined up. A convict put a hat of all to the tip level of the guillotine shining in the sun. Six hundred convicts were paraded. The executioner, freshly shaved and wearing his breeches and a cocked hat, took a new black baton. A Parisian rifle rattled to camp. No more was heard among these shells of men demanding money, smokes, and anything else they happened to see or think up.

The executioner, of course, was an ace. He was treated with the reverence and respect that Capone would command. He got his first choice. But the youths selected of defiance. There was a fight at once, a fight with knives. The newcomer was disarmed. Generally such a few convicts are made. The code of the dormitories is the code of the guillotine.

But in this case the guards learned who had done the killing and was paraded and doomed at once.

CHANT OF DEATH

It may be true. The weirdest and spookiest chant to ever fall on us was the one I heard at the side of it. It is the death anthem

They All Agree With Nippon Spirit of Peace—So They Say

TOKYO, Jan. 23.—An anti-militarist tenor marked the first interpellation in Japan's imperial diet today when members of the cabinet completed their statements of policy and declared questioning in order.

Count Yoshitomi Futatabi opened by criticizing the government for permitting publication of inflammatory articles and predictions of

"The so-called national spirit fostered by such inclinations is not the true spirit of Nippon, in which an international outlook is inherent. The true national spirit seeks to prevail without fighting." Count Futatabi declared.

"I quite agree," said Premier Makoto Saito.

Home Minister Baron Tetsuo Yamamoto, in charge of censorship, said the government will strive to control such publications.

"I agree with Count Futatabi's definition of the Nippon spirit," chimed in Admiral Matsu Osumi, minister of the navy.

"I agree with my navy minister," said the prime minister.

MENDIETA GAINS APPROVAL AFTER FOUR-DAY POWER

America's Decision Finds New President Freeing Physicians From Bonds Preventing Practice

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The United States today recognized the new Cuban government headed by Carlos Mendieta.

HAVANA, Jan. 23.—Four days after he took over the presidency in the midst of political chaos, Carlos Mendieta was officially notified last evening he had won a prize former president Ramon Grau San Martin had failed to win in four months—recognition of Cuba by the United States.

Word of President Roosevelt's decision was delivered to Mendieta by Comodoro La Torre, secretary of state, while the Cuban president and his aides were studying a serious situation created by a strike of medical workers.

FREEDOM FOR PHYSICIANS

After a brief meeting with cabinet members a decree was prepared for his signature which would free the physicians of Cuba from practising without restrictions.

The projected measure provided for the dissolution of the medical federation and the closing of all hospitals of the Spanish empire until the medical tangle is finally unraveled.

If the decree is signed it would indicate that Mendieta decided to use strong measures to end a situation which left almost all of the nation's sick and injured without medical attention for several days.

Announcement of President Roosevelt's decision came after a brief meeting at the White House with representatives of the south and central American republics.

Secretary Cordell Hull, who attended the meeting with Sumner Welles, assistant secretary of state in charge of Cuban affairs, said Mr. Roosevelt advised the envoy that "the disposition of the United States government is to recognize the Cuban government in view of our belief that it has the substantial support of the Cuban people and is entirely capable of maintaining law and order."

Case of Lillian Fusty's Murder Trial

Accused Woman's Life of Misery Bared to Court

SECOND SECTION

Presides At Protracted Fusty Trial

Recital of Brutalities of Husband She Admits Killing Overcomes Prisoner—Collapse in Box Followed By Court Adjournment.

On the verge of telling the last episode of her long, living crucifixion as the wife of Fred Fusty, Mrs. Lillian Fusty collapsed in the witness stand in criminal court on Thursday afternoon just as she was approaching that dramatic moment in her narrative in which she struck down her former husband with length of iron pipe, and Mrs. Justice Borden, who presided over the trial, was given a night's rest before coming to the story of the killing.

Mrs. Fusty, jointly charged with her son, William, with the murder on December 24, last, of Fusty senior, shortly after his escape from the penitentiary, had been on the stand for four hours in an outwardly impassive fashion the story of the long hell-on-earth life she had led since the death of her drunken reprobate.

STAY NERVOUS

During the final moments of her testimony, after she had unflinchingly told the hideous details of her 27-year-long matrimony, her voice began to falter and Sheriff John Rae looked anxiously at her several times, while Fred Jackson, her co-accused, suggested at the brilliant drama of a test. She stonily declared she was anxious to tell the truth, but, shortly after, she collapsed in a faint. She was taken to a point in her narrative at which old Fred was back home on his feet, a few minutes later she was killed, and she suddenly crumpled.

DEPORTATIONS ARE PROBLEM FOR ALDERMEN

Immigrants Fight Deportation—A Third Anxious to Leave

City council had to deal with a paradoxical situation Monday night when two persons appealed against deportation orders, while a third asked for assistance in securing his deportation. The latter, an Englishman who has been in the country for more than five years, admitted that he had been deported during that period and also stated that federal authorities were anxious to deport him, but that he was a public charge when he arrived here.

PARTIES REQUEST

In the case of one of the immigrants protesting deportation proceedings, Aid. J. W. Findlay moved that city commissioners apply to the federal authorities for a four-month extension. This motion carried.

Council took no action in connection with the appeal of the second person against being sent out of the country, but decided that an extension had already been granted.

The unemployed married Mrs. Ansell made representations on behalf of the second person who wanted to stay here. It was stated that both the husband and wife were willing to do anything to stay here.

Aid. H. D. Ainley: "City council will not be asked to do anything to keep people here who are being deported to other countries."

MAJOR D. K. KNOTT: "Two-thirds of the deportations are made on the request of the parties concerned. This matter is in the hands of the immigration department. The law says that if an immigrant cannot support himself during his first five years in the country, he becomes a public charge, he is liable for deportation. In one of the cases, a man made no attempt to get a job, but he was deported. In the other case, one of the parties involved is a German blacksmith and had made every attempt to secure work in the city of Montreal. He was deported, but he is not very keen to go back to Germany, and he is willing to do anything to stay here. The delegate said:

"The delegate said that it was unfair to deport people when efforts were being made to bring them into the country."

ASKS TO GO

Aldermen were surprised when a few minutes later another man asked to be deported.

Capt. Elmore Philpott, M.C., Leader of C.C.F., Visits Here

Containing that the anticipated Dominion government public works program to be paid for with inflationary currency was an infallible sign of an impending general election, Capt. Elmore Philpott, M.C., a leader of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation in Ontario, declared today that he would see not only a Dominion appeal to the voters, but a Dominion appeal on the part of the Ontario government.

"Do you think there will be a provincial general election in Alberta?" he was asked, to which he replied, "I am not sufficiently well acquainted with the situation in Alberta to say."

Capt. Philpott is on his way back to Toronto after attending and speaking at a meeting of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, held in Calgary, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat and other points.

"Upon what do you base the allegation that it is not expected to return until next week?"

CHAMBER URGES MORE ECONOMY

Objecting to any raise in the mill rate for 1934, the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce submitted a communication to city council Monday night, in which it offered to cooperate with council with a view to effecting economies which would make it unnecessary to raise the rate this year.

The Chamber reminded the aldermen that $40,000 had been paid off in debt service during 1933. This reduction in the city's bonded indebtedness should be reflected either in a reduction in utility rates or in a lower budget, it was maintained.

Further, the Chamber stated that economy in civic administration would offset the $40,000 reduction in 1934 and property assessments would not be increased in the rate would "do nothing to help the ratepayer, the commerce body or the city."

In closing, the Chamber urged city council to consider the Chamber's suggestions in connection with the proposed rate increase.

Ald. D. A. Ainley observed that the Chamber's suggestions were a good one if it could be carried out. He said he would have the Chamber's suggestions in connection with the proposed rate increase.

ST. JOHN TRAIN GOES 30 MILES IN SIXTY HOURS

SAINT JOHN, Jan. 23--Forty-two train passengers from St. Martin ended a tedious journey to Hamilton last night 60 hours after starting the 30-mile trip on Saturday morning. Locomotives were changed twice, and haul two day coaches through snowdrifts and other difficulties had to be overcome before the delayed passengers reached their destination.

They slept in the coaches two days when the train remained snowbound at Henry Lake. Provisions were brought from St. Martin, however, and the passengers escaped hardship in the heated cars.

The train left St. Martin at 10 a.m. on Saturday and arrived in Hamilton at 10 p.m. on Tuesday.

The train was delayed for 60 hours because of heavy snowdrifts and other difficulties.

Hog Prices At Highest Level In Three Years

TORONTO, Jan. 23--Higher quotations on hogs are general at Canadian packing centres, current prices showing the highest level in more than three years. The advance is due to the demand for hogs in the United Kingdom markets where Canadian hogs are marketed nearly 20,000 hogs a week.

Prices of Canadian hogs advanced about six shillings per cwt. last week and exporters here expect the market to continue to rise.

There's a battle in the air tonight when Senator "Red" Keat sends his Eskimos against those Tigers from Tigertown, otherwise Calgary... "Sente" Keat's Eskimos to a beating... Saturday and he figures his workmen must wipe that sweat and grime... In fact, he is very determined, indeed, about it and has informed the men of the (spoke)... If they can beat the Bengals, the Eskis will be riding pretty close to the heels of the Vancouver Lions, who are one more step up the league staircase, or ladder, if you will... And the race is setting to a stage just now where every step counts rather importantly...

You may note by deprecating to say that Billy Petrie, the old Express out of Fargo, N. D., is yearning for another fight with Jimmy McLarnin for the welter title... One would think old Bill, as we call him, would be well well convinced that this time that Jimmy is a right guy to stay away from... The Express was the "redneck" and Jimmy is the "good" one... And Jimmy is not a nice gent to "take" it from when you're talking in boxing terms...

There will be somewhat of a celebration in the Madison Square Garden this evening when the New York Ranger manager present this time to that players who have faithfully performed hockey duty for them since 1926... There are to be trophies and knick-knacks must all be given to this one and that of the Ranger veterans and everyone should be happy... Murray Murdoch comes out on the stage in a collecting a diamond ring as his share of the celebrant spoils...

One of the features of that junior hockey game Saturday night, far as the Edmonton Oilers and Club management was concerned, was the showing of Gordon Watt, the black-headed defenceman... They had been calling out for some time to get another big man for their rearguard and his play in his first game with the team—and in such an important game—indicated that he might be the answer to their search...

President Dr. Leitch of the Northwestern "Hockey League" comes out with a statement that the Calgary franchise has officially been turned over to Tony Savage by the league... It's a fact, nevertheless, that the Tiger management has changed into the hands of the defence star and that he'll run the team now... President Leitch has not yet received notification of the transfer as yet...

There was apparently some battle in Vancouver last night when the Lions beat Portland Buckaroos 3-2, even when the club from the west had a strong showing of the play... There was some good play on their part, according to their reports, or they might easily have won the game...
